

Boycott Pacific Beach Hotel

32 people lost their jobs at this hotel after the workers tried to form a union.

Pacific Beach Hotel has already been found to have committed serious violations of federal labor law.

Pacific Beach Hotel has been charged with dozens of additional counts of illegal abuse of its employees.

Housekeepers' workloads have been illegally increased to up to 19 rooms per day—one housekeeper was recently taken away in an ambulance after collapsing on the job.

Community groups, church groups and labor unions have come together to protest Pacific Beach Hotel's illegal and immoral treatment of its employees. We ask everyone, no matter where you are from: Do not give your money to this hotel until they agree to respect the law and negotiate in good faith with the employees' union.

The people who make this hotel work—who carry the bags, clean the rooms, serve the meals, and work hard every day to make visitors stay the best it can be—organized a union in 2002.

Almost six years later, they are still waiting for their employer to negotiate a fair contract. They have seen co-workers lose their jobs after speaking out in support of legal union rights. The employees may be bowed, but they are not broken—they are still calling on the company to recognize their union.

But they need your help!
